Warsaw Counseling Center provides outpatient mental health services. Counseling services include behavioral health and substance abuse prevention. Also provides crisis intervention services, through individual family and group counseling.

Counseling can benefit those who are facing challenges such as behavioral problems, depression or for individuals who are having difficulty functioning and need help acquiring coping skills due to mental health illness.

Counseling Services are provided by licensed professional staff and/or staff under supervision working toward licensure. Services are covered by most insurance companies. Sliding scale, based on a person's ability to pay, is available.
