At Home Caregivers provides non-medical companion and homemaker services to seniors, those recovering from surgery, new and expectant mothers and more. Services can be hourly or live-in.

In-home assistance is the ideal solution for elderly or disabled individuals who want to maintain their independence and stay in their own homes. Services can include:

- Driving and/or accompanying the client to the doctor
- Shopping and performing other household errands
- Reminding clients to take their medication
- Providing hygiene assistance
- Supervising ambulation
- Laundry and changing bed linens
- Preparing and serving meals and clean up
- Dusting, vacuuming client's room
- Respite care for family caregivers
- Helping with correspondence
- Encouraging participation in stimulating activities
- Providing socialization, friendship, and support

Caregivers receive special training on communicating with persons who have Alzheimer's and related dementia, hearing loss and Aphasia. Please call for more information.
