Pearl's Center of Hope proposes services which are client-centered and focused on equipping survivors with tools and opportunities whereby they may rebuild their lives. Our purpose is to help survivors and families of sexual abuse, domestic violence, substance addiction rebuild their lives through counseling services. We support the disadvantaged, those with low-income, children of ex-offenders and the homeless who have been abused, neglected, adjudicated, delinquent, maladjusted, and maltreated. We endeavor to offer counseling services for all our clients.

Emergency and crises support is provided to individuals of any age who are victims of human trafficking, as well as domestic and sexual violence. . All treatment is tailored to the needs of the individual and guided by an individualized treatment plan based on a comprehensive biopsychosocial assessment of the individual and their family, if appropriate.

Primary services are individual therapy, education, advocacy and safety planning.
